

EMWA Newsblast– December 2020

Holiday Break

EMWA Head Office will be closing for three days this year between Christmas and New Year. Our last working day will be 24th December, and the office will reopen again on 4th January.

Wishing you a very Joyful Holiday Season despite these difficult times.

Freelance Business Forum Report

During the first virtual EMWA conference in November, the Freelance Business Group took up the challenge to also run the Freelance Business Forum (FBF) online. We maintained the structure that the FBF has had over many years: an introductory presentation by the FBG chair, a guest speaker (Shaun Foley), and roundtable discussions, which this time were in the form of breakout rooms. We had an impressive 74 people in the Zoom meeting and it was described as a big success. Read the online report to find out more.

#EMWA BuzzItUP! Initiative

With the beginning of 2021 we would like to start a new EMWA SoMe initiative, called #EMWA-BuzzItUp. The aim of the initiative is to provide one Buzzword – _relevant to the Medical Writing / Communications community – _every week to our EMWA members via EMWAs SoMe channels (Twitter, Instagram, LinkedIn). These Buzzwords should be highly topical but maybe out of scope for EMWAs educational channels (workshops, webinars, journal). After posting the visual, we aim to moderate the post with additional online information such as links, comments, videos, and graphics. This additional information can be EMWA cross-promotional and should always aim for an educational purpose.

We aim to increase awareness and proactive engagement on the individual topics among our members. Herewith, we would like to give you the opportunity to participate in the initiative. You can send us Buzzwords of your particular interest.

If you are interested, we would ask you to send your Buzzword of choice as soon as possible to info@emwa.org (topic: #EMWA-BuzzItUp). Additionally, we would be happy to receive contact information on the person who wishes to moderate the individual Buzzword. The moderator will be informed about the publication date. They will then be able to post links, comments, videos, and graphics under the Buzzword post and moderate upcoming discussions. Thank you for your participation!

Podcast of interest to medical writers: Predatory Publishing

"Predatory journals are the biggest problem right now for most publishers...".

We are currently looking for translators. If you would like to volunteer please contact Abe Shevack or the EMWA Head Office.

Ambassador's Programme

As part of the EMWA Ambassador Programme's continuing efforts to reach out to new audiences to promote medical writing and EMWA, Abe Shevack gave a virtual presentation to students attending the University of Birkbeck's Virtual Annual Careers Fair 2020.

Altogether 30 participants were online for the talk on 2 Nov and a number of interesting questions were directed to Abe via a moderator.

Following the talk, Abe manned a virtual exhibitor booth that was visited by 120 participants who were greeted by various videos about medical writing from EMWA members and a sample issue of the MEWs dedicated to Careers in Medical Writing.

If you are an experienced medical writer and EMWA volunteer and are interested in becoming an EMWA Ambassador or if you know of any upcoming career events in your locality please contact Head Office or Abe Shevack.
